URBAN REVITALIZATION TAX EXEMPTION PROGRAM

Making improvements to your home and business can be costly and increase the value of your property. An increase in property values also raises your property taxes. If your property is located in one of these areas (see map on back), the Urban Revitalization Tax Exemption (URTE) program can assist by exempting the increase in your property taxes for three to ten years.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Is my property in the area?

If you aren't sure, give us a call at 563-326-7765.

Do I have to get a building permit?

If the City's Building Department requires a permit, you must have one to qualify for this program. Additionally, all building permits must have a final passing inspection. Call 563-362-7745 for more information.

What type of improvements will raise my property value?

Additions to your property, a new garage or large remodeling projects will typically increase the assessed valuation. Home maintenance projects such as replacing a water heater or roof won't necessarily increase your assessed valuation. However, if in doubt, apply.

SCHEDULE

- If you have done work in 2023 apply by February 1, 2024.
- Completed projects file for final approval. If work is still underway, file for in progress approval.
- Applications are subject to City Council approval, this happens in late February.
- Once approved, applications are reviewed by the City Assessor's office. Notices detailing exemptions are sent by Assessor's in the spring.
